“ It is hard to believe that Don is with the Lord. He will be very much missed. I was with Don in the First Baptist Choir for many years. When he was needed to fill in for the director on Wednesday nights, I was glad. He was a stickler for doing everything right. It was during those times that I learn a lot.

May God bless your family with His peace during this time of grieving.

“ We met you the first time with Carol Ann 1989 at the Andersons and from then lots of times when we visited Bartlesville. In 2000 you travelled to Switzerland to see us and you liked that in our little Country there is so much to do and to see, not only the Matterhorn which you saw while riding the famous Glacier-Express. In our covered loggia you enjoyed conversations and the glasses of red wine until very late evening. We will remember you in silent mourning and with a last lovingly salutation.

“ I remember when Don came to Phillips in 1961. All the single girls (me included) thought wow, what a handsome guy! But his heart already belonged to Carol Ann. We became good friends, he was funny and smart, and very easy to get along with. I delivered mail to his desk multiple times a day, and he always had something to say to me, even if it was only teasing. Like about how I did my mail routes in high heels. Obviously 1961 was well before the days of email, which is why I had a job at the time. Over the years we remained friends. My husband and I took Don and Carol Ann along when we went up into Kansas to hunt Christmas trees on my family's farm near Peru. We somehow got 3 Christmas trees into the back of my dad's Rambler station wagon. One for my grandparents, one for us, and one for Don and Carol Ann.

Though we saw each other of late only at football and basketball games I am so sorry to learn that he is gone, and I will remember him very fondly forever.

“ Don will be with us for the rest of our lives...at least as long as we have memories. The memories are all good. Even when he corrected our grammar or mentioned that we should go help someone or some group in the community. He always had a good attitude and it was contagious. It is hard to speak of Don in the past tense because it feels like he could walk through the door any time. He was a true servant, giving his time and talents to so many groups in the community and he was one you could count on. If his plans changed and he decided he couldn't help with another project, he would take the time to let you know with a call or email.

Don shared his musical talents with the world. Not only did he travel all over Oklahoma and the country with singing groups but he played the organ for our church for the past 10 or 15 years and prior to that helped out First Baptist of Dewey when they needed an interim Music Minister. That "Interim" title lasted 23 years until he finally convinced them to find a permanent leader so he could go back to his home church.

We recently read a newspaper article about a wedding in which my wife served as a flower girl (over 50 years ago). I wasn't surprised to read that Don Cone was the pianist.

We shall miss his charm, wit and character. He leaves a great legacy in his family and the organizations he helped build and hold together for several decades. "Well done, good and faithful servant".

“ Of all the people I have ever met, Don Combs was the nicest man. He was always smiling and had only kind things to say about anything. His character and morality were unimpeachable. I met him through the Kiwanis Club of Bartlesville and looked forward to shaking his hand.

My deepest condolences to the family, but I know he and his wife are holding hands and smiling in heaven. You should find great comfort in that.
