“ Janace, Patsy Smith Brooks and me (Zelma Clark) called ourselves the three Musketeers in high school. We were together when our class reunion was in Branson. I picked up Patsy and Janace and we shared room and had a great time reminiscing with our class mates. Laughing and telling stories about each other. Even though we didn't see each other a lot, when we talked on the phone or saw each other it was like we had never been separated. True friends are hard to come by but our class has always seemed like an extended family. Janace, I will see you on the other side one day! My condolences to her family as there can never be another Janace. She will always live on in our memories. Love you dear friend may you rest in peace.
