Freda Joyce Cargill, 88, longtime resident of Dewey, OK, gained her angel wings on December 31, 2021.

Joyce was born on May 16, 1933, in Cushing, OK to Ambrose Mears and Caroline (Sorrels) Mears. She was raised in Cushing by Caroline Bessie Mears, along with her seven siblings. Joyce met Danny Cargill in Cushing, while she worked at Vee Drug Store and attending Cushing High School. Joyce graduated from Cushing High School in 1950. Dan and Joyce enjoyed square dancing, bird watching, flea marketing and camping all over the States. Together they raised four children, Les, Bryan, Lori and Marissa.

Joyce graduated from Wesleyan University in Bartlesville, Summa Cum Laude. She taught music at Oak Park Elementary, Hoover Elementary, Kane Elementary and Ranch Heights Elementary, all in Bartlesville, OK. She sang in the choir at Good Shepherd, along with playing the bells and organ at church. She also taught piano in her home for many years. She was able to touch many students' lives, including her four children, sharing her love for music. Joyce enjoyed working in her flower beds, bird watching, and loving on her grandchildren. As her daughters would tell her often, we got this momma! We got this momma, love you more.

“ Joyce and her deceased husband, Dan always held a special place in my heart. I recall them making a trip to Arizona years ago on their way to Prescott, AZ and receiving a telephone call from my sister-in-law, Marissa. It was later in the evening and they needed a place to stay for the night. We met them at a plaza nearby and they stayed with my husband and I in Scottsdale, AZ. We sat at our kitchen table, ate and talked for a few hours. They were such good “salt of the earth” people and I feel blessed to have known them.
