“ I didn't know Kenny, but I have the pleasure to work with his wife Tammy, who has shared bits and pieces of her love for Kenny and the path that they have shared through sickness and through health. He sounds like he was a wonderful man with a joyous spirit and great sense of humor! While he is now in a better place, he will be greatly missed. My condolences to all that loved him.

“ A Special Memory of Kenny

I was lucky to be in the room with my sister Kathy and Kenny when their son Dakota was born. You could tell Kenny was nervous, but he hung in there. This was a first for him to see a baby being born.

I will never forget the look on his face when Dakota made his appearance. He only had four words to say, which was "well I be damned." It was like he didn't think a baby would actually appear. In that moment, I saw all the love, amazement, and wonder in Kenny as he became a father.

Rest in peace, Kenny. Your love lives on through Dakota, Nathan, and Ember.
