“ I mowed Marcia’s lawn for the last several years. She was always very nice and kind. My church , East Bartlesville Christian Church, made a prayer quilt for Marcia last summer and my wife and I gave it to her and prayed with her. Many at our church prayed for her. She will be greatly missed. Steve Tomlinson

“ I worked with Marcia for several years at Jackson Hewitt Tax Service in Bartlesville. I greatly admired her skill and amazing patience with clients. Her sense of humor and sense of honor were great examples for me, to which I aspire. She was a joy to work with, and is much missed. To her family and friends I extend heartfelt condolences. --Dan Carr

Marcia was a wonderful friend, fabulous tax preparer and always did the right thing. Her knowledge and patience helped many of her tax clients stay out of trouble with the IRS. And she trained us well...we never showed up at her office without chocolate! I asked her when she first got sick what her dream was? What she wanted to do before she got too sick to travel. Her answer surprised me. She said she had taken her dream trip to the Greek Islands and there really wasn't anywhere else she wanted to go. She had LIVED HER DREAM, no regrets. I hope I can have her grace and courage if I faced the same battle.

The last week of her life the weather was nice. I asked her if she wanted to get in her chair and go outside and listen to the birds, smell the flowers and feel the sun in her face. She said it sounded nice but was too much trouble for the nurses. The next day, her friend Toni, sent pictures of her in her chair in the dining room and outside with a smile on her face. I went to see her the next day and she had huge blisters on her legs from being up. She said, "but it was so worth it, so worth it to be outside."

She was gracious under the worst of times....rest in peace sweet Marcia, Rest In Peace. You will be missed.

A great work colleague and friend who always had an upbeat look on life. She could talk "tax talk" with me all day! Enjoyed those talks over the last months. Rest well Marcia!
