

Mary Ann Brown

February 19, 1938 - October 5, 2018

Mary Ann Brown, 80, of Bartlesville, was in Dewey Friday when she left this earth for the arms of Jesus her Savior.

Mary Ann was born the daughter of Richard and Laura Quincy (Walton) Eastman on Feb. 19, 1938, in Bartlesville. Growing up, her family split their time between Ochelata and California depending on the season. As a young girl Mary Ann had a little boy behind her in school who would pull the ribbons out of her braids, much to her dismay. One day while the family visited his home she realized he was using them to decorate his room. Mary Ann graduated from Ochelata High School in 1955 and soon after, while walking to the Fire Baptized Church in Ochelata, she noticed a long pair of legs stretching out of an open car door, she introduced herself and quickly fell in love with Floyd Brown. They united in marriage on June 16, 1956, in San Antonio, TX, where Floyd was stationed with the army. They briefly lived in Germany before Floyd's honorable discharge, then made their home in Bartlesville. Once the children were older she took a job at Bo Peep Day Care which she enjoyed for many years.

Mary Ann loved the Lord deeply. She was saved on April 5, 1959, at the Ochelata Holiness Church and sanctified Sept 23, 1961, in the Bartlesville Holiness Church. She was a charter member of her current church the Wesleyan Holiness Alliance Church in Bartlesville. Mary Ann taught Sunday School for 40 years and she enjoyed singing special songs with Floyd during services. They loved to travel and took many memorable trips with their kids when they were young, and in recent years to Indiana to visit with Jonathan and his children. They attended many camp meetings and cherished the many friends they made over the years. She tended a small garden with her favorite rose bush with strict orders for Floyd not to mow and she cherished spending time with her grandchildren, reading to them as they were curled up on the couch.

Mary Ann is survived by her faithful husband of 62 years Floyd; two children Rebecca King and Leroy of Caney, Jonathan Brown and Carla of Whitestown, IN, daughter in law Sharon Brown of Bartlesville, brother Keith Eastman of Claremore, Gerald Eastman and Kay of Pahrump, NV; eight grandchildren, Dustin Worthington and Kayla, Neal King, Brian King, Joshua Brown and Julianna, Shara Tate and Roy, Caleb Brown, Levi Brown and Liberty Brown; and 11 great grandchildren, EJ, Adriel, Ryker, Tanner, Austin, Dalton, Brianna, Austin, Dalena, Sharleese and Parker. She is preceded in death by her parents, son Dale Brown and sister Emma Jo Eastman.
