I am reflecting back on one evening many years ago when you and Ehren were hanging out with David and I at our home. You were complaining about your back hurting and I asked if you believed if Jesus heals and you responded, through your faith, affirmatively although you had not experienced anything close to a supernatural healing before. You then asked for us to pray for you, then we laid hands upon you and prayed and your back was instantly healed...free of pain or hinderance. Later you were asking Ehren if that healing would remain and he encouraged you that God never takes back what He gives. I am encouraged to know who your heart truly belongs to Patrick and I will see you on the streets, hills and valleys of Heaven one day.
