When WWII started, the family moved to San Diego, California and lived there for a few years while Patsy's dad worked at the shipyards helping construct ships in the war effort. After the war, they came back to the family farm in South Coffeyville, Oklahoma. Pat lived through the depression, helping her dad take care of the farm. Pat's dad moved the family again to camp housing provided for the employees by the company he started working for. Pat's dad later changed jobs going to work for Phillip's. Pat, Patricia and Everett moved with her parents to Bartlesville, OK. While in Bartlesville, Pat met Lewis Graves. Lewis was working as a mechanic for the Mullendore Ranch. They dated and later married in August, 1957. Lewis and Pat moved to Farmington, New Mexico with their two children, Everett and Patricia. They lived there for a few years. Lewis, Pat and their children later located to Amarillo, Texas. There in Amarillo, Lewis opened his own mechanic repair shop. Pat worked with Lewis building their business into the best known repair shop in Amarillo. Lewis became involved in racing cars at the local track in Amarillo. Pat wasn't happy about the dangers of racing, but supported Lewis in it. From stock to modified to super modifieds, she and their children were always there in the bleachers cheering him on. Pat and Lewis welcomed their daughter, Christi Ann into the world on Sept. 7, 1960. By this time they were living in the east ridge area of Amarillo. Pat and Lewis were avid bowlers. They were members of a league in Amarillo. They were both very good at it, helping their league win many tournaments. Later the family moved to Brown Drive. Pat had a third daughter Christial born. Pat's, daughter Christi met, dated and married Kevin Mitchell. Christi and Kevin later welcomed their daughter Wendy into the world and Pat became a very proud grandma. Pat became a great-grandma after Wendy had three daughters, Raven, Shelby, Lilliana. Pat continued to live in Amarillo until she, Everett, Patricia and Christial relocated to Dewey, OK, upon her father Earl urging them to move there. Pat became well known in the community, as Pat, Patsy and as Peewee Graves' mom. Pat was known to give a helping hand to people in need. Many times she would provide items needed, be it a blanket, household items, food, clothing. Pat was a strong woman, she faced things head on. She was a survivor. She was not one to waiver on her thoughts, beliefs and opinions. Pat loved the Lord in her own special way. She always said that she wasn't perfect and hoped God would look past that. WE

“ I remember the time we were ordering pizza as we all know how stubborn she is, kept mixing up the pizza orders for each person so 15 minutes later passes and we were still trying to figure this out. I remember her laughing because I kept saying the WRONG orders because I was so confused, so I got my sister Raven to help. My most special memories are the funniest, I can still remember her sweet smile till this very day! - her gread grand daughter Liliana. We will forever cherish the moments with her and without her❤️❤️
