

Shane Madison

March 28, 1997 - February 16, 2025

Shane Madison, 27, of Dewey, died February 16th in Dewey.

Services are pending. Arrangements are under the direction of Carter Davis and the Davis Family Funeral Home and Crematory Walker-Brown Chapel. Online condolences and remembrances may be shared at www.DavisFamilyFuneralHome.com

Tribute Wall

SF

“ Oh syrup. We had amazing memories together! You were so funny and goofy. You helped me when I was sick and let me stay with you for a while, while you took care of me. I'll always love you Shane! I'm beyond grateful I get to have a piece of you forever. I hope you know how much you meant to me!!!
Awolnation- sail ❤️👍

skye fleming - May 14, 2025 at 11:20 AM

BE

“ I knew Shane from 2007-2025, we were 10 years old and instantly became friends the day we met. We never grew apart. We spent almost everyday together whether it was physically showing up or online messaging. I went to my 1st concert with Shane. I could talk forever about our childhood memories, but most our most recent memories was going to a spookhouse, seeing Trenton. Our last concert together was in Dec 2024. I was the only person he would let cut/dye his hair. I could talk to Shane about anything & vice versa. We were very open with each other. I always accepted Shane the way he was. He was a very kind, loving, gentle soul.. gave the BEST hugs in the world.. he could read my mind so easily & understood me better than anyone. I was the last person he messaged the day he died. I reread the messages often.. Shane didn't mention it would be his last day, he never said goodbye. I know we will see each other again, in another lifetime. Our bond was so strong. We never fought or argued about anything. I still think about him everyday.. its hard not to. I miss the funny memes we sent each other, he made me laugh more than anyone. He really wanted to make the world a better place for everyone to feel comfortable being their true self. I wish life treated him better. I tried to do the right thing after his passing & do the best to truly honor him whether everyone agrees with it or not. I think Shane would be at peace with it. Gone too soo but never forgotten. There's so much we had planned together & words left unsaid.

Best ❤️ Friend - May 11, 2025 at 02:51 AM

AL

“ I don't think I would've made it through high school without Shane. He was a loving soul who accepted people and forgave their mistakes. I can't count the number of times a friend was able to turn to Shane for help and receive it, no questions asked. He was such a cool dude to be around. I know he wouldn't want anybody in tears over his departure. Shane will be remembered because of the size of his heart, his bravery, creativity, and most importantly he will be remembered as Shane, because he refused to let anybody tell him who he was. May you rest in peace Shane because you deserve it.

Alex - May 09, 2025 at 10:47 AM

ST

“ One time Shane showed up at my house in a horse head mask 🐾 we had a few inside jokes like "Yer a wizard Harry" and he would say "Yer a hairy wizard Hagrid." 🐾 Shane had a great sense of humor and although we knew each other primarily from mutual friends in 2015-2018, i knew Shane had empathy for me when many did not. I wish we had gotten closer before Shane's untimely passing. Rest in Peace Shane, we love and miss you!

Steph - February 24, 2025 at 07:32 AM

“ Shane was such a loving, caring, chaotic, punk soul. He was one of my closer friends when we were younger, and was one of the first people I really bonded with when I moved to Oklahoma. I'll never forget how accepting and kind he was, and how hard he always tried to protect me from the negativity going on in my life. One of my favorite memories from the endless fun, will always be back from 2015; I got kicked out of a show we were at in Tulsa, and Shane and the gang snuck me back in. I'll miss you forever man. I hope you're finally at peace.

Ash Hussey - February 21, 2025 at 06:55 PM